

A Loving Online Community for Larger Folks!

A well kept secret more people should know about is a wonderful personals website and hangout place on the web called <http://www.pluscupid.com> . It is specifically for those great folks who are pleasingly plump, rubenesque, super-sized, or just plain larger,taller and bigger than what most people are seeking on many personals websites. No longer is it necessary for large or tall people, Big Beautiful Women (BBW), Big Handsome Men (BHM),or those who admire them, to feel out of place or ignored by single men or single women seeking a new friend, activity partner, long-term relationship, or marriage. Here, size acceptance is the norm; very friendly, kind,warm and loving people gather together because they truly love and admirer larger folks or are larger themselves!

A new user creates his or her own profile, which can be updated at will, and can opt to be a paying member at a reasonable rate, which allows them the ability to initiate contact with other members more freely via email and chat, as well as other options. Or they can remain a free member who can wink at others.

There is a vast amount of things a user can do on this delightful website! A user can express their interests,wants and desires on their profile. They can search out others by age and location. They can chat with other users who are currently online, email others, or respond to winks. There is a very large and active message forum area where people can post messages on just about any topic from romance, dating, general interests,sports, travel to religion, or start their own topic. The very large and active blog area is where those who are inclined to be more expressive can share their thoughts. The blog area and message areas are available for use to even free members, so people can get to know one another and see the quality of people on the web site even if they have not yet decided if they want to become a paying member. People can leave nice comments for other users on their profiles in the comments area, expressing their interest or telling others about the fine qualities of another member they have met. Customer service is excellent and they have always been quick to respond and help with any question or problem I have had.

As a zaftig woman myself, I have been exceedingly pleased with the high quality folks I have met, become friends with, dated and had a relationship with from this website. I am quite comfortable there and feel accepted by the warm and friendly people on the site. If you know any larger folks, please do tell them about this website, so they too may find a spot where they can feel genuinely accepted, comfortable, and possibly find the loving partner of their dreams!

About the Author

I am a BBW. I feel that being a BBW woman is not a bad thing. I never want to lose some weight as only if I am healthy. I am just happy with the person that I am inside.
